Year & English

Name:
Teacher:
Class:

How to use this booklet

In your exam, you will be asked to write an AMITY response to one of the poems we studied at the start of the term. It will be one of the following:

- Catrin, Gillian Clarke
- What Has Happened to Lulu, Charles Causley
- Still I Rise, Maya Angelou
- Human Interest, Carol Ann Duffy

To help prepare you for your exam, you should practise using AMITY to annotate these poems, plan AMITY responses, write introductions, and write paragraphs analysing how these poets use language and structure techniques to convey their ideas.

AMITY

How to annotate and then write about a poem

BEFORE YOU BEGIN: Read the title. This will give you important clues as to what the poem is about.

First, read it.

Second, start to ask questions: ABOUT who is speaking? Who to? Where are we? When? Why do you think the writer has written the poem? What 'snapshot' of human experience are they trying to capture?

Third - Reread slowly, line by line, stanza by stanza – each stanza offers a 'picture'. How does the poet 'unfold' his or her IDEAS?

Fourth – revisit second step, adding in more details as the poem starts to relinquish its secrets....

Fifth - MOOD — revisit the structure/stanzas in turn, and decide the speaker's thoughts and feelings, 'tarot cards'. Wistful/angry — how does the change in mood add to the message/theme of the poem?

Sixth – TECHNIQUES – which techniques does the writer use to paint their picture/create the mood/effect the reader / convey their important ideas?

Seventh – What is YOUR RESPONSE to the poem? How does it change your ideas about the subject/mood that is presented?

These moves can be condensed down to AMITY: A = about M = mood, I = ideas T = techniques Y = your view.

AMITY Essay Format

Introduction: About, Mood, Ideas

- What is the poem ABOUT (What is the moment of human experience being conveyed? Who is speaking? To whom?)
- What is the mood of the poem? Does it change?
- What ideas is the poet communicating through the poem?

Analysis paragraph 1: Technique 1

- What idea does the poet express early in the poem? What technique do they use to express that idea?
- Explain the connotations of that word or method. Aim to explore layers of meaning.
- Effect on the reader?
- Why might the poet have wanted us to understand this at this moment?

Analysis paragraph 2: Technique 2

- What idea does the poet express at a moment of change in the poem? What technique do they use to express that idea?
- Explain the connotations of that word or method. Aim to explore layers of meaning.
- Effect on the reader?
- Why might the poet have wanted us to understand this at this moment?

Analysis paragraph 3: Technique 3

- What idea does the poet express at the end of the poem? What technique do they use to express that idea?
- Explain the connotations of that word or method. Aim to explore layers of meaning.
- Effect on the reader?
- Why might the poet have wanted us to understand this at this moment?

Conclusion: Your Response

• What does the poem prompt you to understand individual experience?

Catrin

I can remember you, child, As I stood in a hot, white Room at the window watching The people and cars taking Turn at the traffic lights. I can remember you, our first Fierce confrontation, the tight Red rope of love which we both Fought over. It was square Environmental blank, disinfected Of paintings or toys. I wrote All over the walls with my Words, coloured the clean squares With the wild, tender circles Of our struggle to become Separate. We want, we shouted, To be two, to be ourselves.

Neither won nor lost the struggle
In the glass tank clouded with feelings
Which changed us both. Still I am fighting
You off, as you stand there
With your straight, strong, long
Brown hair and your rosy
Defiant glare, bringing up
From the heart's pool that old rope,
Tightening about my life,
Trailing love and conflict,
As you ask may you skate
In the dark, for one more hour.

Gillian Clarke

		Task 2: Write an AMI introduction
		Task 3: Write a Technique paragraph
Have you
started with a clear statement explaining the idea the poet expresses?
included e vidence from the text?
text? identified	the most important text?identified word or tecl
text?identified word or tecl correct term	the most important hnique and used the ninology to name it?
text?identified word or tech correct termexplored	the most important hnique and used the text?identified word or tech correct termexplored for at least t	the most important hnique and used the hinology to name it?
text?identified word or tech correct termexplored for at least t	the most important hnique and used the hinology to name it? connotations (aim three things) what it prompts the el or ask or
midentified word or tech correct termexplored for at least texplained reader to fe understand	the most important hnique and used the ninology to name it? connotations (aim three things) what it prompts the el or ask or?
midentified word or teck correct termexplored for at least texplained reader to fe understandexplored whave wanter	the most important hnique and used the ninology to name it? connotations (aim three things) what it prompts the el or ask or? why the poet might d to create that text?identified word or teck correct termexplored for at least texplained reader to fe understandexplored v	the most important hnique and used the ninology to name it? connotations (aim three things) what it prompts the el or ask or? why the poet might d to create that
midentified word or teck correct termexplored for at least texplained reader to fe understandexplored whave wanter	the most important hnique and used the ninology to name it? connotations (aim three things) what it prompts the el or ask or? why the poet might d to create that

What Has Happened To Lulu?

What has happened to Lulu, mother?
What has happened to Lu?
There's nothing in her bed but an old rag-doll
And by its side a shoe.

Why is her window wide, mother, The curtain flapping free, And only a circle on the dusty shelf Where her money-box used to be?

Why do you turn your head, mother,
And why do tear drops fall?
And why do you crumple that note on the fire
And say it is nothing at all?

I woke to voices late last night,
I heard an engine roar.
Why do you tell me the things I heard
Were a dream and nothing more?

I heard somebody cry, mother, In anger or in pain, But now I ask you why, mother, You say it was a gust of rain.

Why do you wander about as though You don't know what to do? What has happened to Lulu, mother? What has happened to Lu?

Charles Causley

	Task 2: Write an AMI introduction
	Task 3: Write a Technique paragraph
Have you
started with a clear statement explaining the idea the poet expresses?
included evidence from the text?
identified the most important word or technique and used the correct terminology to name it?
explored connotations (aim for at least three things) explained what it prompts the reader to feel or ask or understand?
explored why the poet might have wanted to create that effect at that moment?

Human Interest

Fifteen years minimum, banged up inside for what took thirty seconds to complete. She turned away. I stabbed. I felt this heat burn through my skull until reason had died.

I'd slogged my guts out for her, but she lied when I knew different. She used to meet some prick after work. She stank of deceit.

I loved her. When I accused her, she cried and denied it. Straight up, she tore me apart. On the Monday, I found the other bloke had bought her a chain with a silver heart.

When I think about her now, I near choke with grief. My baby. She wasn't a tart or nothing. I wouldn't harm a fly, no joke.

Carol Ann Duffy, 1985

Task 2: Write an AMI introduction
Task 3: Write a Technique paragraph

Still I Rise

You may write me down in history With your bitter, twisted lies, You may trod me in the very dirt But still, like dust, I'll rise.

Does my sassiness upset you? Why are you beset with gloom? 'Cause I walk like I've got oil wells Pumping in my living room.

Just like moons and like suns, With the certainty of tides, Just like hopes springing high, Still I'll rise.

Did you want to see me broken? Bowed head and lowered eyes? Shoulders falling down like teardrops, Weakened by my soulful cries? Does my haughtiness offend you? Don't you take it awful hard 'Cause I laugh like I've got gold mines Diggin' in my own backyard. You may shoot me with your words, You may cut me with your eyes, You may kill me with your hatefulness, But still, like air, I'll rise.

Does my sexiness upset you? Does it come as a surprise That I dance like I've got diamonds At the meeting of my thighs? Out of the huts of history's shame I rise Up from a past that's rooted in pain I rise

I'm a black ocean, leaping and wide, Welling and swelling I bear in the tide. Leaving behind nights of terror and fear I rise Into a daybreak that's wondrously clear I rise Bringing the gifts that my ancestors gave,

Bringing the gifts that my ancestors gave, I am the dream and the hope of the slave. I rise

l rise

l rise.

By Maya Angelou

	Task 2: Write an AMI introduction
	Task 3: Write a Technique paragraph
Have you
started with a clear statement explaining the idea the poet expresses?
included evidence from the text?
identified the most important word or technique and used the correct terminology to name it?
explored connotations (aim for at least three things) explained what it prompts the reader to feel or ask or understand?
explored why the poet might have wanted to create that effect at that moment?	